Your love is dedicated as a ring of solid gold, as a vow, which is checked As the covenant of your old love endures through the winter rain And beyond the horizon With mercy to today's Faithful you were and faithful you will you swear before me, and that is why I sing your praise will never be on my lips Ever will be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips ever will be on my lips ever will be on my lips ever will be on my lips lips You father orphan Your kindness makes us whole AND you shoulder our weakness And your strength becomes our own Now you make me like you dress me in white Bringing beauty from the ashes For you will have your bride free from all her guilt Rid all her shame and known by her true name And that is why I sing your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips Someday will be on my lips Someday will be on my lips You will praise you will praise with angels and saints we sing worthy of you Lord You will praise you will praise with the angels and saints we sing worthy of you lord And that is why I sing your praise will never be on my lips Ever will be on my lips your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips CCM Radio Edition. April 26, 2016. Today we will take a look at Ever Be by Aaron Shust, who currently sits #17 at 20theCountdownMagazine. At my first listen to this song, I immediately confused the mystical lyrics. It is not clear whether the song is a song about the love of God, from God, or whether it will be a song about the love of earthly marriage. As I read the comment download, I realized that this was unlikely to improve. This song earned a quick and solid disapproval. While this song finds itself on the CCM Radio charts, I'm quite sure there are churches using this song in their services. I don't think it fits that goal, either. Posted on February 22, 2016, I'm happy to share the official lyrical video with all of you! Throughout the Bible, God's love for us is likened to a covenant of marriage. He vows to love us forever, and this song (from Bethel Music) is an outpouring of worship in response to that love! His praise will ever be on my lips! So it comes from Bethel Music, and we have said before that we consider Bethel heresy the house. Moving further away from this point, we see that they have their analogies back. Earthly marriages are an imperfect omen of the relationship between Christ and the Church. Therefore, when we talk about God's Love to us, it is Perfection, and we are imperfect, our conception of the marriage covenant is an imperfect picture of God's Perfect Love. Why is it Because this kind of confusion leads to an overly emotional/sensual/empirical pursuit of God's love. God is not found in our emotions, He found in His Word. God often describes him His people are like marriage, but every time He does it (except for the last day when Christ returns to the Church), it is to point out our infidelity, our adultery (dolatory), and our sin. The official lyrical video of your love is dedicated as a ring of solid gold, as a vow that is checked as the covenant of your old love going through the winter rain And beyond the horizon with mercy to today's Faithful You were and faithful You will you swear yourself to me, and that is why I sing (chorus) Your praise will never be on my lips, ever be on my lips You Father orphan Your kindness makes us whole And you shoulder our weakness And your strength becomes our own Now you make me as you dress me in white Bringing beauty from the ashes For you will have your bride free of all her guilt and get rid of all her shame and known under her true name and that's why I sing (chorus), someday be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips, ever be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips, ever will be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips You will praise You will praise With angels and saints You will praise with angels and saints we sing worthy Of You lord And that is why I sing (chorus) Your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips your praise will never be on my lips ever be on my lips your praise will never be on my lips, ever will be on my lips Your praise will never be on my lips, ever be on my lips, ever be on my lips, ever be on my lips Publishing- © 2014 Bethel Music Publishing (ASCAP) Writer (s): The lyrics and music of Callie Heiligenthal, Gabriel Wilson, Chris Greeley, Bobby Strand Talk Ugh, this song was painful to sit through. After listening to your praise will never be on my lips, ever be on my lips eleven times just ... Redundant. And that doesn't say anything. Are we talking about eternity? Well, yes, we will praise God forever. Are we talking about temporarily? Well, you're lying. In fact, while you repeat this line eleven times, do you know what you're not really doing? Praise God. You talk about what you can be/will do, but don't really do it. While we are on the theme of Praise, why will the Bride (Church) praise Christ forever? Then he SAVED US. Does this explain this song? No, instead he presents God as a fabulous night in shining armor that appears to save us from our shame and guilt, so that we can be summoned by our true name... I wonder if Never Ending Story is driving the images in this song with all the true name of the thing. At any rate, it represents a romanticized salvation, as would God just wave his hand, and all the guilt and shame just went poof. This is not the gospel of Jesus Christ. Romans 5 (ESV) Peace with God through faith Therefore, since we were justified by faith, we have peace with through our Lord Jesus Christ. Through Him, we have also gained access through the faith in this grace in which we stand, and we rejoice in the hope of God's glory. Not only that, but we rejoice in our suffering, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not put us in shame, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit that has been given to us. For while we were still weak, at the right time Christ died for the wicked. For hardly anyone will die for a righteous man, although perhaps for a good man one might even die, but God shows his love for us in that, while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more we will be saved by him from the wrath of God. For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled with God by the death of His Son, much more, now that we have reconciled, we will be saved by his life. Moreover, we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now gained reconciliation. Death in Adam, life in Christ Therefore, just as sin came into the world through one man, and death through sin, and so death has spread to all men, because all sinned - for sin really was in the world before the law was given, but sin is not considered where there is no law. However, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sin was not like Adam's transgression, which was the type of one who was to come. But a free gift doesn't look like an invasion. For if many died through the invasion of one man, much more the grace of God and the free gift by grace that one man Jesus Christ abounded in for many. And a free gift is not like the result of this man's sin. For the court after one violation brought a conviction, but a free gift after many violations brought acquittal. For if, because of the invasion of one man, death reigned through this one man, there will be many more of those who receive an abundance of grace and a free gift of righteousness to reign in life through one man Jesus Christ. Therefore, since one violation has led to condemnation for all people, one act of righteousness leads to justification and life for all people. For as many of them have become sinners by the disobedient permanence, so many will be righteous in the obedience of one man. Now the law has come to increase the invasion, but where sin has increased, grace has abounded even more so that as sin reigned in death, grace can also reign through righteousness leading to eternal life through Our Lord's Jesus Christ. That is why we praise the Lord of our God and Savior. We do not need to romanticize or conjure up any emotional experience when we have the Truth of God's Word, clearly proclaiming and displaying the immeasurable and incomprehensible to us God's Love. The Holy Spirit will bring through the Word of God and there will be moments when your emotions will line up with yours and you get that warm glowing feeling, or breath, that deep sigh of relief that soothes the soul... but when these emotions are not controlled or presented to the Scriptures, the truth of that promise does not change. God's love doesn't change, it doesn't go away when your emotional maximum subsides and you are left to deal with everyday life. Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, weed out your faith from your temporal and fleeting emotions, and hold fast to the outer, written Word of God, remember your baptism and the Supper of the Lord, and believe in these means to feed, grow, and support your faith. Your emotions are so easily manipulated and stirred, they are a bad anchor for your faith... and your sinful, carnal flesh desperately wants to do just that so that you fully focus on your emotions, your feelings, your circumstances, your impressions, your felt. There are a few truth-hard statements out there... God is indeed a Father without a father, and it is His kindness that makes us whole. The general exchange of messages, however, is not about what the Word of God says about Him... it is about stirring up the imagination and moving your emotions about. That's for sure. Does that make this song good? No. This song is an emotional saw. Although it is presented as praise to God, it is actually just intended to ignite the crowd in a mystically charged emotionality, so that people can get away feeling that they have done something spiritual... it is designed to create a good work by inviting the Presence (allegedly God of the Holy Spirit) to this place so that those present can feel emotionally loved by God. Scripture does not describe appropriate worship in this way. In fact, such carnivorous worship is often attributed to false gods. I would like to close today's post by looking at what God's written word has to say about what lies ahead for those in Jesus' Christ. We will look at the last two chapters in Revelation. Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first land had passed away, and the sea was gone. And I saw how the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down from heaven from God, prepared as a bride decorated for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, Here, the dwelling of God with a man. He will live with them, and they will be His people, and God himself will be with them as their God. He will wipe all the tears from their eyes, and death will no longer be, nor will there be mourning, no crying, no pain anymore, for the old things have died. And the one who sat on the throne said, Here, I'm doing everything new. He also said, Write it down because these words are trustworthy and true. And he said to me: It's done! I'm Alpha and Omega, beginning and ending. To thirst I will give from spring water of life without payment. Whoever wins will have this legacy, and I will be His God, and he will be my son. But as for the cowardly, unbelievers, the disgusting, as for the murderers, the sexually immoral, the sorcerers, the idolaters and all the liars, their part will be in the lake, which is lit by fire and sulfur, which is the second death. Then came New Jerusalem, one of the seven angels who had seven bowls full of the last seven disasters, and said to me, Come, I will show you the Bride, the wife of the Lamb. And he carried me in the Spirit to the great, high mountain, and showed me the holy city of Jerusalem, descending from heaven from God, having the glory of God, its radiance, as the rarest pearl, like a jasper, clearly like a crystal. He had a great, high wall, with twelve gates, and at the gate twelve angels, and on the gate were written the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel - on the eastern three gates, on the northern three gates, on the southern three gates and on the west three gates. And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. And the one who spoke to me had a measuring rod of gold to measure the city, its gates and walls. The city is located in a four-square part, its length is the same as its width. And he measured the city with its core, 12,000 stadiums. Its length, width and height are equal. He also measured his wall, 144 cubits to measure a man, which is also a measurement of an angel. The wall was built of jasper, while the city was pure gold, like pure glass. The foundations of the city's wall were decorated with all the gems. The first was jasper, second sapphire, third agate, fourth emerald, fifth onyx, sixth carnelian, seventh chrysolite, eighth beryl, ninth topaz, tenth chrysopear, eleventh hasinaphrase, twelfth amethyst. And twelve gates were twelve pearls, each from the gate of one pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold like transparent glass. And I have not seen the temple in the city, for its temple is God Almighty and Lamb. And the city does not need the sun or the moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gives it light, and its lamp lamb. In its light, nations will walk, and the kings of the earth will bring their glory to it, and its gates will never be closed during the day, and there will be no night. They will bring in it the glory and honor of peoples. But nothing impure will ever enter it, nor anyone who does what is disgusting or false, but only those who are written in the book of the life of the Lamb. Revelation 22 (ESV) River of Life Then the angel showed me a river of water of life, bright as a crystal flowing from the throne of God and the Lamb through the middle of the city street; in addition, on both sides of the river, the tree of life with its twelve kinds of fruit, yielding its fruits every month. Leaves the tree was for the healing of nations. There will be nothing more cursed, but the throne of God and the Lamb will be in him, and his servants will worship him. They'll see his face, and his name will be on his forehead. And there won't be any more nights. They will not need the light of a lamp or the sun, for God God will be their light, and they will reign forever and forever. Jesus goes, and he said to me: These words are trustworthy and true. And the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to show his servants what should have happened in the near future. And so, I'll be here soon. Blessed is the one who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book. I, John, is the one who has heard and seen these things. And when I heard and saw them, I fell to bow at the feet of the angel who showed them to me, but he said to me. You must not do this! I am a servant to you and your fellow prophets, and to those who keep the words of this book. Worship of God. And he said to me, without sealing the words of the prophecy of this book, for time is near. Let the villain continue to do evil, and dirty still be dirty, and the righteous continue to do the right thing, and the Saint will still be holy. Here, I'm soon, bringing my compensation with me to repay everyone for what he did. I am Alpha and Omega, first and last, beginning and end. Blessed are those who wash their clothes so that they can have the right to tree life, and that they can enter the city at the gates. Outside dogs and sorcerers are both sexually immoral and murderers and idolaters and all who love and practice lies. I, Jesus, sent my angel to testify to you about these things for the churches. I am the root and descendant of David, a bright morning star. Spirit and bride say: Come. And let the one who hears say: Come. And let the one who craves come; let the one who wishes to take the water of life without price. I warn all who hear the words of the prophecy of this book: if someone adds to them, God will add to him the plague described in this book, and if someone hears from the words of the book of this prophecy, God will regain his share in the tree of life and in the holy city, which are described in this book. Anyone who testifies to these things says: Of course, I will be here soon. Amen. Come, Lord Jesus! The grace of the Lord Jesus will be with all. Amen. Amen, really.
